

Project: Udemy Clone

Technology:

- VueJS
- NodeJS
- ExpressJS
- MongoDB

Description:

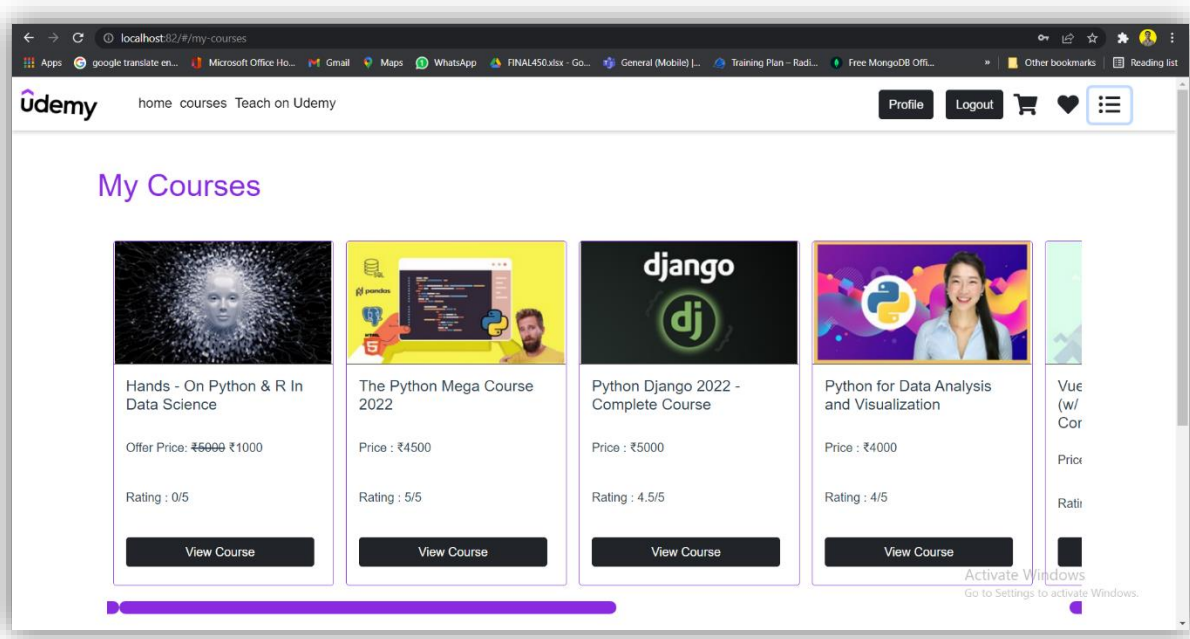

This project is basically a clone of Udemy where you can publish your own course and also you can purchase a course, learn new skills and improve your knowledge in any domain.

Functionalities:

For user:

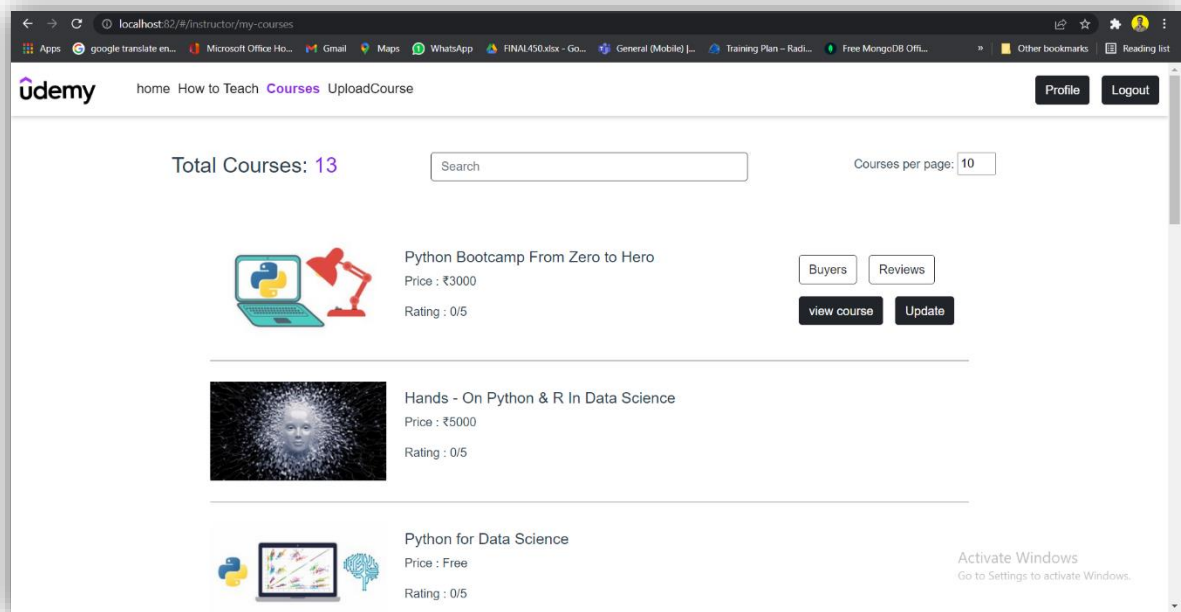

- Users can search for courses from this website. They also can filter courses based on price and sort courses based on price high to low, low to high, from most rated course to least rated course.
- And if you move to another page and come back then it will show that courses which you had previously searched or filtered.
- Users can also see brief description of course and read reviews of that course. Reviews can be filtered by rating.
- Course can be added to cart or wishlist. If user is not logged in and try to add to cart or add to wishlist then it will automatically redirect to login page.
- Razorpay payment gateway integration is used for making payment to purchase course.
- Users can also see their video progress of enrolled courses and download certificate once the course is completed.
- If you leave the page where when video is playing and again if you come back then video will start from where you left before.
- Users can also give review to courses in which they have enrolled.

For Instructor:

- Once you sign up as an instructor you can record videos of your course and publish it on this site.
- Course information contains course name, description, category, subcategory, price, course thumbnail, course videos and resources file.
- While uploading course videos to site instructor can also upload resources file (zip format) and course thumbnail.
- Instructor can read the reviews given by user and also can see the list of buyers who purchases the course.

- Instructor can also update course details, course thumbnail, and course videos. Instructor can also add some videos on specific number of available videos.

For Admin:

- Admin can add/update category and subcategory. Category and subcategory of same is cannot be added more than once.
- Admin can see all the courses uploaded by all instructors, buyers of course, reviews of course, update specific course, deactivate/activate course.
- Admin can add offer for specific course, make offer live or remove offer.

- Admin can also see all users of website, block/unblock user, update user info.
